Dedicated to . . .

Mr. Arthur Flauto

Mr. Flauto, you have been a true friend to us. But more than a friend, you have helped us in particular, as a teacher and class advisor. You have overlooked our forgetfulness, our carelessness, and our inconsideration. You have made us look within ourselves and you have pushed us farther along the road to maturity. There is no physical tribute which we could give that would pay you for your interest in us. Therefore, it is with great sincerity that we dedicate this book to you in hope that this intangible gift will in some way be rewarding for your work with the Class of 1966.

Foreward . . .

The 1966 Dragon Staff in reviewing notes it recorded at McKinley this year was enthralled to resolve life here as a dynamic drama. We were saddened, however, by the realization that too soon the "story book" moments of youth are occluded by the momentum of maturity. We decided, therefore, to permeate our last year at McKinley by publishing a novel entitled "The Dragon's Tale". As is true of all novels, in our book you will find setting, plot, conflict, characters, and of course a running narrative. And so on with the story . . .

Chapter 1
INTRODUCTION

Setting . . .

A home for nearly eleven hundred pupils provides the setting for "The Dragon's Tale". Within the building, located on the shores of Mosquito Creek, many noble traditions have been maintained during the school's existence; chief among which is the institution's aim to provide pupils with a sound education through utilization of the building's facilities and faculty.

Plot . . .

The plot of "The Dragon's Tale" is a year of student activity at McKinley High. It is in the area of curricular and co-curricular life at NHS that the pupils of the school prepare themselves to function capably in their present and future environments. The media for this development is as varied as are the desires of the boys and girls themselves. Therefore, formal and informal opportunities for learning personal responsibility and discrimination are common to each instructional day at McKinley High.

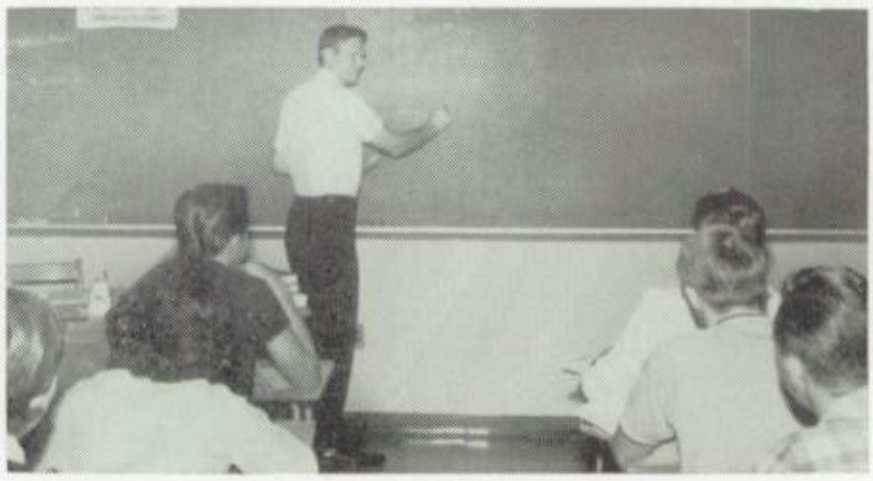
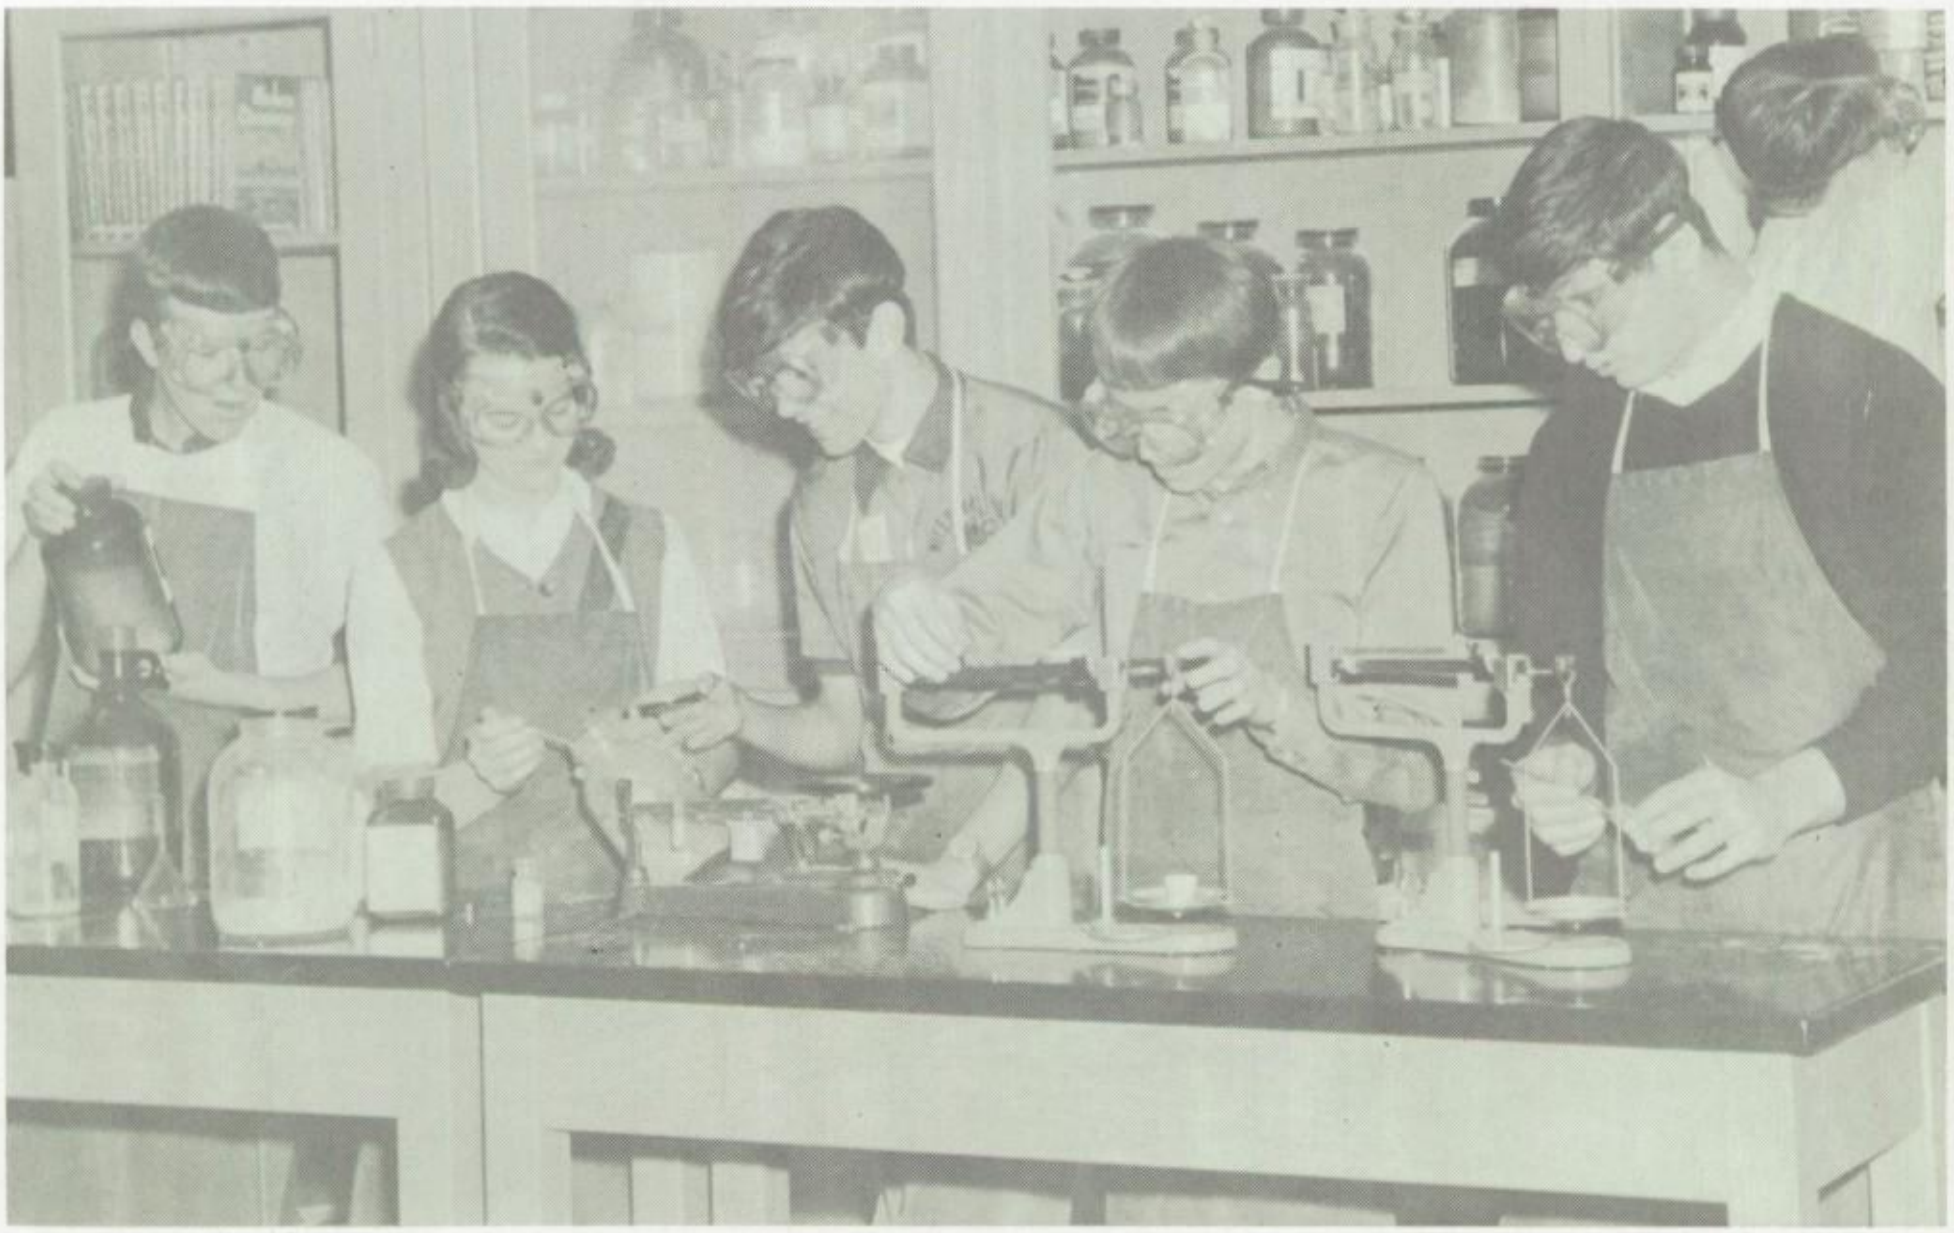
Conflict . . .

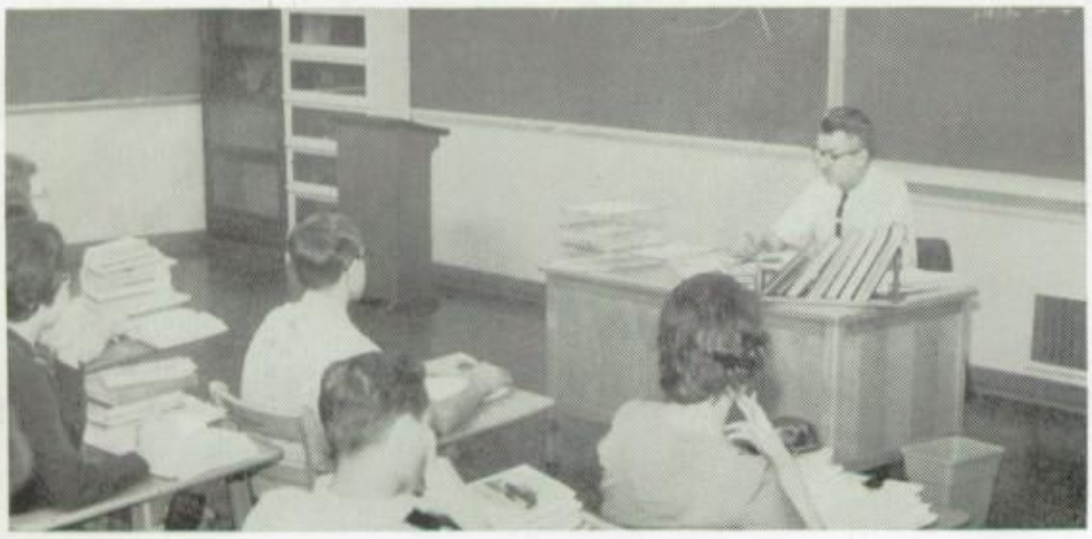
Our story, "The Dragon's Tale," like life, is filled with conflict; not crushing, disconcerting conflict but rather conflict spawned by day to day competition for achievement. It is by contact with and mastery of the natural conflicts of life that we gain valuable insights into living as mature and orderly segments of society.

Characters . . .

No novel is considered worthy of praise unless it has realistic characters to give it life. In our book "The Dragon's Tale" the characters were varied and at times each pursued his favorite phantom to the dismay of his teachers but in the final analysis McKinleyites strove to attain the common positive goals of the school.







Angels . . .

Publication of "The Dragon's Tale" demanded a considerable sum of capital. Much of this money was derived through the sale of the book. However, a majority of the needed cash was accumulated through the benevolence of the business, professional, industrial, and financial institutions of the community. Thanks for being such "Angels" gentlemen.

THE 'TALE' BEGINS

Administration and Faculty

Once upon a time, in the Land of the Dragon, there was a high school named McKinley. McKinley was an excellent school known through hill and dale for the academic achievement of its pupils. It wasn't mere chance that predicated such a noble educational reputation for McKinley, but rather the outstanding performance of her pupils was totally the result of the very capable talents of its administration and faculty.

Superintendent Heads Educational Program

Dr. Donald Renwand was appointed Superintendent of the Niles Public Schools in August of 1965. He required little orientation to the Niles educational system since he served as school psychologist for seven years and as assistant superintendent for two years.

Dr. Renwand has a Bachelor's and a Master's degree from Kent State University and a Doctor of Philosophy degree from Western Reserve University.

Niles' chief school administrator is a firm believer that a community can and should provide quality education for its youth. He played a vital role in one of the community's success stories of 1965 when he led the campaign to win local support of a much needed 4.9 mill increased operating levy. With a man of such talent and energy as Dr. Renwand at the helm, the local education program should be assured continued success.

Principal Works For McKinley Improvement

Mr. Robert H. Sharp, principal of McKinley High School, is the head of the school's administrative department. In this category, he guides the educational and personnel policies of the high school. He strives constantly to evaluate and to improve these policies.

Mr. Sharp's willingness to help the students and teachers of N.H.S. makes him the well-liked respected person he is. His smile and human kindness encourages the friendship and confidence of the students.

of Complex Institution

The administration of the Niles City Schools and McKinley High could not be as effective as it is without the assistance of William Loffer, Director of Elementary and Secondary Education, and Donald R. Pallante, Assistant Principal of the high school.

Administrators

McKinley's guidance staff, consisting of Miss Dorothy Dew, girls' counselor and Joseph Basset, boys' counselor, were always available to unselfishly provide their talents and skills to the NHS student body.

Throughout the 1965-66 school year, these educational specialists provided the necessary professional motivation to enable many pupils to see, vividly, goals for the future that they may not have resolved through any other source.

Nurse

Without the services of a well trained nurse, cooks and highly trained custodians, the educational accomplishments at McKinley High could not have progressed as smoothly and effectively as it did during the past school term.

Although their work was often unheralded, these dedicated people, who comprise the NHS Special Service Staff, certainly are to be commended for their dedication to duty.

Academic Leaders Named

to National Honor Society

An individual distinction is bestowed each year upon a small number of students at Niles McKinley for admittance into National Honor Society. To gain entrance to the Honor Society, one must serve the school as a leader by following the four tenents of the club, Character, Scholarship, Leadership, and Service.

With the goal of acquiring a scholarship fund, the 1965-66 members sold candy during lunch periods.

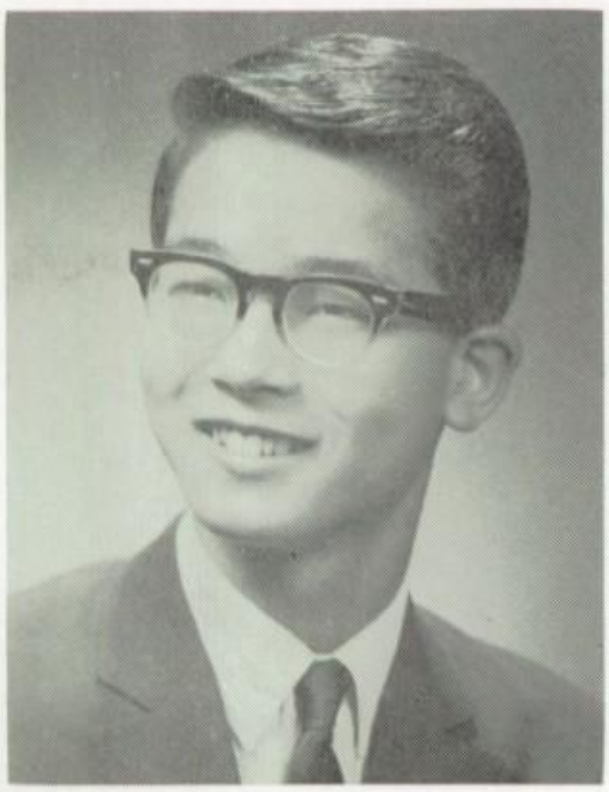
Tamotsu Kakita Spends Year in Niles as AFS Guest



The letters AFS stand for American Field Service, a national organization which has as its main goal the exchange of cultural ideals between American and Foreign students.

Locally, the Niles adult chapter, aided by the NHS chapter, this year, brought Tamotsu Kakita, of Japan to McKinley. To raise funds for this project, AFS and Student Council sponsored a stock drive and other fund raising programs.

In other AFS activity, exchange students from neighboring high schools were invited to spend time at our school and speak at a public meeting held at NHS this year.

NFL Wins Honors

A high point of the National Forensic League at NHS this year was participation in the State Speech Finals in Columbus this Spring. Those McKinleyites who journeyed to the capitol city for the finals included debaters Larry O'Brien, Steve Hagerman, Rick Sullivan and George Albu and individual eventers Debbie Woodcock, Colleen O'Brien and Bob Corea.

The majority of the year's speech work centered about area competitions in which the local orators faired well.

Hi-Crier Staff Produces "Excellent" Paper

Through the unselfish efforts of its small but active staff, the Hi-Crier has successfully completed the 1965-66 school year with a rating of "First Class" from the National Scholastic Press Association for its accomplishments in newswriting.

Over the years this journal has become the voice of the McKinley student body as it relates the new and different events which transpire each day at NHS.

As to what the future holds in store for the Hi-Crier it is hard to say, but it is evident that this tabloid will continue to bestow on its readers a wider comprehension of school happenings in the same superb manner as it has in the past.

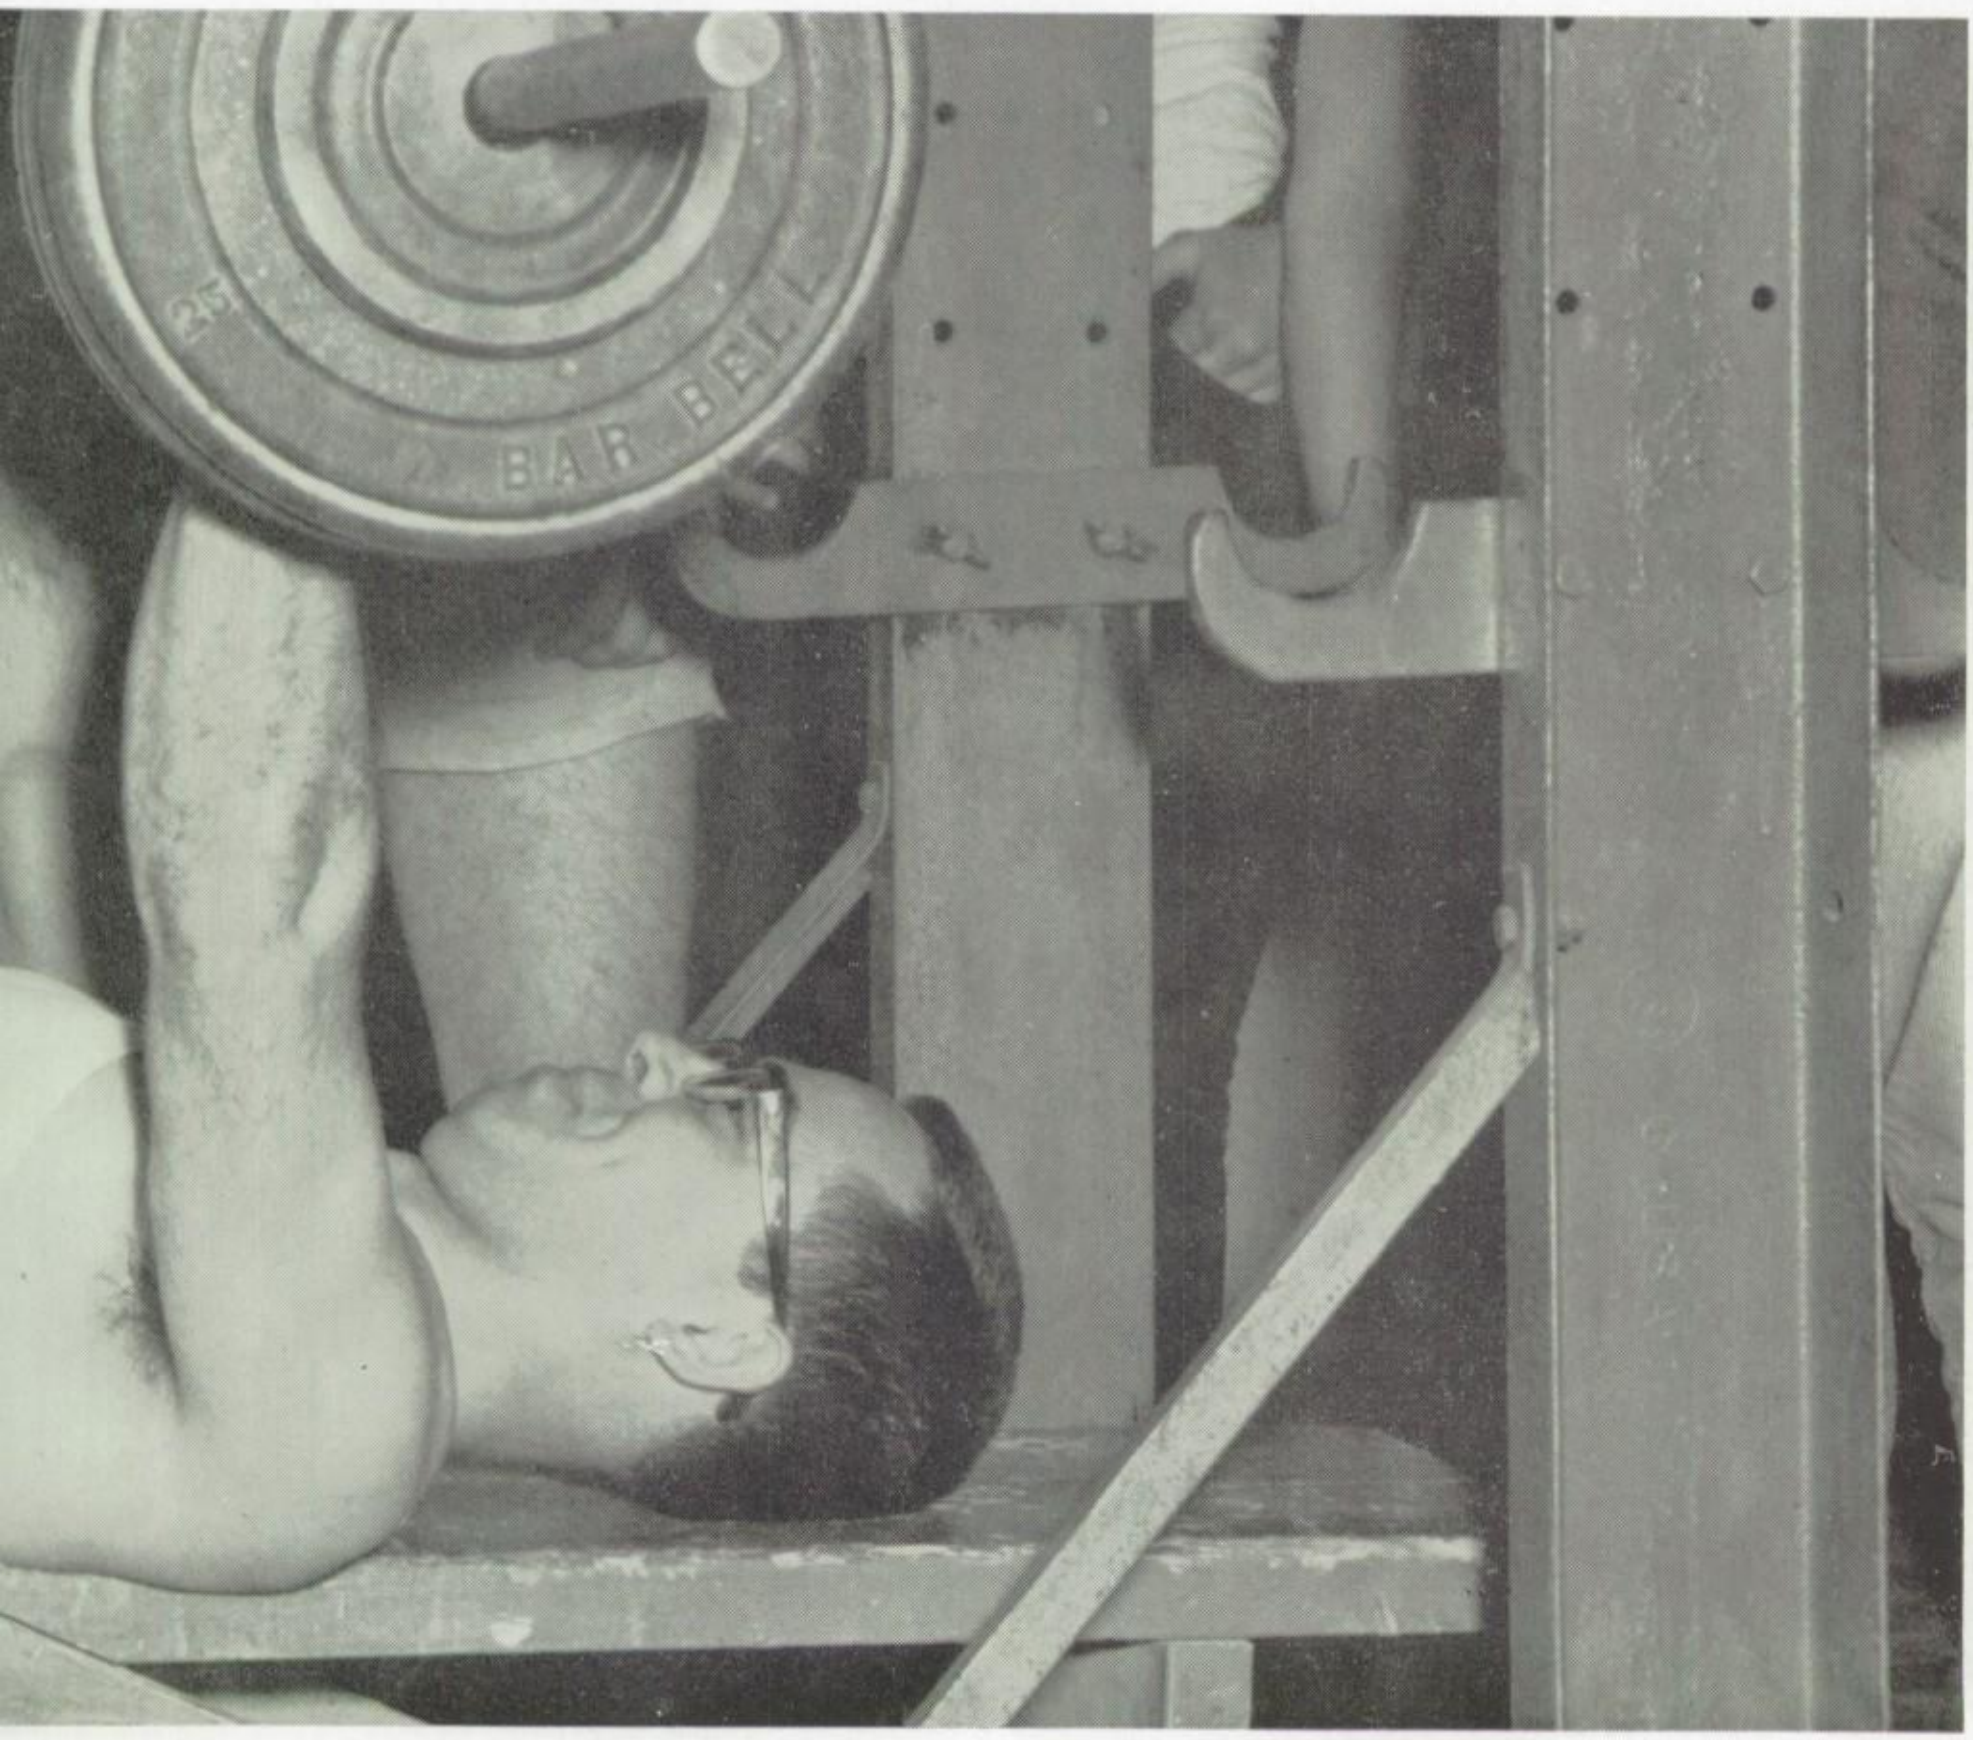
Chapter 4

The Action Rises

ATHLETICS

At this point in our story, "The Dragon's Tale", the action rises swiftly. The playing fields and courts at NHS always abound with competitive activity. The young men and women of McKinley, who participate in athletics, are steeped with a desire to excell in sports and win laurels for themselves and the school.



Gridders Post 6 - 2 - 2 Record

In their first year under new head coach Bob Shaw, the 1965 edition of the Niles McKinley football team racked up an impressive 6-2-2 record, being defeated only by Akron St. Vincent and powerful Massilon. In the final game NHS battled a highly touted Warren ball club to a 14-14 tie and provided an exciting finish to a rugged season.

Niles placed three players on the All-Ohio squad. Joe Lukz, Larry Cella, and Ray Muche gained berths.

When Niles McKinley made its cage debut December 10 at the Canton McKinley Field House, for the first time in 20 seasons a new man was at the helm of the Dragons, Head Coach Richard Bullock who officially took over the job September 11, following the resignation of Joseph Bassett who held the post for 19 years. The Dragons were able to muster one victory in 18 contests. A lack of height and experience hampered Coach Bullock and his charges greatly throughout the campaign. Although on a losing trail the NHS five provided many thrills and highlights for the local fans.

Chapter 5

THE PLOT UNFOLDS

Classes

Life for the characters of "The Dragon's Tale" was as diverse as were the individuals themselves. But through consolidation as members of their respective classes each McKinleyite was provided clearly defined and unified goals to attain.

Seniors Bid Adieu to McKinley

As 1966 came to a close, we, the members of the Senior Class, bid farewell to our three years at McKinley and stepped into the outside world as young adults.

Even though we may lose contact with many of our fellow classmates and teachers, we will not lose for a moment the memories of our high school experiences. Chief in our minds were the Senior Party and Prom.

Motto: "The years have brought us together, only the years can draw us apart."

Another terrific year has past. We have gained experience in leadership by participating in our many activities. The junior class showed its enthusiasm with planning and presenting this year's Prom. Also, vivid memories of class rings, messy lockers, football games, studies, and fun will become a part of us.

We've worked hard this year and we've gained experience, maturity, knowledge, friends, and most of all, spirit. We look forward to our senior year and the future hoping they will be as wonderfull as 1965-1966!

Sophomores Form New Class at NHS

This year's sophomores entered NHS with many qualms, but also with fresh new enthusiasm. How could we ever forget the tense moments of our first day at NHS as we wondered where the endless maze of halls eventually ended, or the frightened feeling we had as we searched vainly for room numbers?

This year's sophomore class, under the leadership of its officers, maintained a forward-looking attitude and the will and desire to make the most of their high school years.

In this rapidly moving world of ours we realize the necessity of being able to face each new day and make the best of it. With this thought in mind we gave our time and abilities to make our first year at NHS a memorable, as well as a successful one.

Maggie,
So a real cute & swell
gal. I hope will always be good friends. Eddie Kiss me good night! Remember me when you're coming to the party. Good Luck in the future
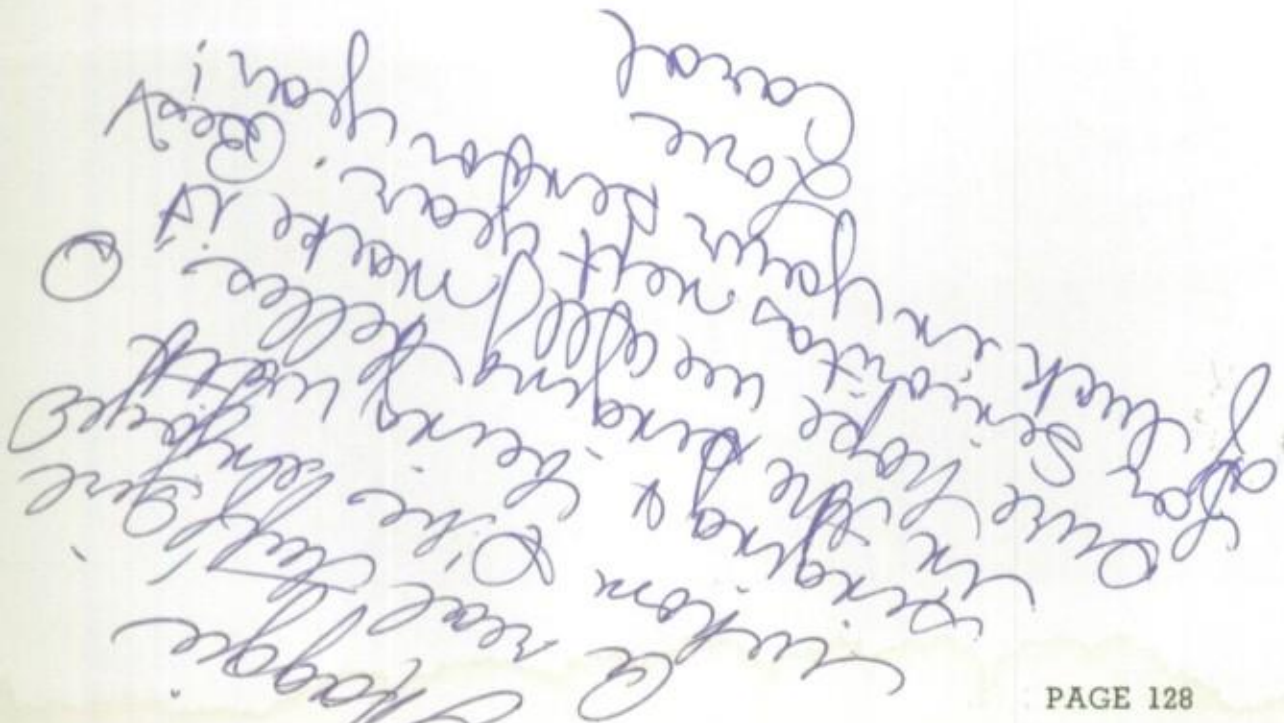
Love,
Betsy



Maggie,
I'm a cute
sweet girl that have had the pleasure of knowing. Good luck
in all your attempt.
God Bless,

Margaret Ann,
Good luck in your piano lessons, I know you'll be another Beethoven. I'll never forget
all the fun and long talks
we've had.
May God Bless you.
Mary Lee.

Maggie
You a really sweet girl. Sorry I don't get to see much of
you this year.
I hope we remain
good friends always.

Linda

Maggie,
Some people have
a voice of a sweet bird
and sound beautiful
but you well - - a - you sound like - like a bird that wants to be set loose.
Don't hate me for this - sou
I lie!
Have fun
Peggy

Maggie,
I like the feet/legs
we worked at W+S. You're a doll and your Mom is very nice. Personality
Keep Smiling
Brenda

Margaret, Hope you succeed in everything you do. Good Luck Always
